

No For An Answer, You Laugh

You laugh because it's funny.
You laugh because it's true.
You never really think about it, do you?
A union for the body,
With nothing for the mind,
You'll scrape and beg to get it, inside!
Yet still you call them lovers,
When they're not even friends
And when they won't submit to you, love ends!
It's done without commitment,
I say it isn't right
It's casual treatment of the act,
That takes lives!
How could you possibly think that it was safe?
With self induced diseases all over the fucking place,
Casual sex has taken thousands of lives,
The sense of being used is warping peoples minds!
