

No Fun At All, I Can't Believe It's True

I'm getting tired of the messages I get They don't seem too important
Someone is telling me what I should feed my pet
I think I might do something I regret

I can't believe it's true
I can't believe the things they make me do
I can't believe it's true I can't believe the things I do
Got to try to clear my mind

I started looking at the world another
I really tried to like it
I got confused I couldn't think of what to say
I closed my eyes and drifted far away
