

No man's land (Radio Free Roscoe), You belong

All the years that we cared, all the things that we shared
Birthday cakes, bad mistakes
Stolen bikes, open mikes
Sweet tarts, broken hearts
Punched your arm & no harm
Now these things start to fade to a very different shade
So don't look back you won't find me here
I've moved on to another year
Don't pick me when we play choose
Cause that's one way you're gonna lose
You belong, you belong,
You belong to someone else
You belong, you belong,
You belong to someone else, not me!
So don't look back & expect to see
The vision you once knew of me
Turn aside, you're no longer mine
Move ahead, it's go time!
You belong, you belong,
You belong to someone else.
You belong, you belong,
You belong to someone else, not me!
You belong to someone else, not me!
