

No Motiv, Savior

So here we are again
we're all fighting it through the day With one more obnoxious ass that's raining on my parade and God only knows where I'd be without you to save me from disaster time and time again we're two and together we'll never be defeated
We'll blaze a trail wherever we go Somehow through all these years I've managed it on my own With you to stand by me now I'll never have to show
All of the people that are trying to make a wreck I'll leave the world behind me I'll leave them and not look back We'll blaze a trail wherever we go nobody's in our way so let's go right now
