

No, Really, Breathing On Another Planet

You said you needed some space between
Well, maybe I took it a little too far
And now I've gone where you cannot follow
We don't even see the same stars

And I am slightly short of breath
There's not enough oxygen in this atmosphere
And I can barely take a step because
I know I am the first one to walk here
So breathe in deep
Breathe in deep

The sky is green
But the ground is blue
And this place is
The opposite of you

And I am slightly short of breath
There's not enough oxygen in this atmosphere
And I can barely take a step because
I know I am the first one to walk here
And I left you and Earth behind because
I could not stand to stay and face the truth
Now every footprint that I've left will be
A trace of how I kept my love from you
So breathe in deep
Breathe in deep
Breathe in deep
Breathe in deep
