

No Use For A Name, Nailed Shut

I always thought I had a pitch-black mind Surrounding voices changed my view
I feel fine now, it is a shame how I found out:
a) When I was a kid I was full of hate
b) Couldn't save the teenager that never felt blame
c) Thought I blazed a path on a dead end street-Always incomplete
d) and none of these are an excuse for the person I've avoided
And all you fers in denial Looks like you'll have to get there soon to wait awhile

Before you send me off in a nailed shut box-
Please Let me know

Stopped feeling insecure with what was said Indifferent to the voice attached to the head
What we will become, is how we choose Fight like a dumb man when you make him think You stay afloat for now, but surely you'll sink
With synthetic friends
Now I conclude, I won't confide in you

Hypocrite please, you know the truth you're just too happy to decide it Like a prediction in a nursery rhyme
To shut me up you'll have to wait a whole life time

Before you send me off in nailed shut box
please let me know
Before you send me off in a nailed shut box
Please let me know.
