

No Warning, Over My Shoulder

You think I don't know - but I know
You can try and take away what I love
There are certain moments in life
And this is one I will take advantage of
I rise - the path I take is filled with graves
Save your words.
Don't think my worlds your own
What I've learned is all I've got now
This time I do it alone