No Warning, Pushing On

With everything that goes on When I never thought it would get worse There always seems to be something more That pushes me away Pushing on. Can't stop now. I relive. I remember. It sticks and it stays All this time spent alone recapping the days Pace myself - Push myself Pushing on - I'm all I've got I won't let it stop but I've got to slow down Slowly I will rot looking out for all I keep around I can't stop now
