

Noa, Long Coat In Winter

Grow into me like a vine through a sidewalk
Struggling to reach for the sky
Grow into me like the veins on my forehead that stand out whenever I cry

Oh, I will wrap my arms around you like a long coat in winter
Oh, will you stay with me on thinning ice and trust me to lead?
Will you be everything I need?

Climb next to me up the trail, up the mountain
Even though times running out
Night falls around, theres no light in the distance
Only my shadows of doubt

Oh, I will wrap my arms around you like a long coat in winter
Oh, will you stay with me on thinning ice and trust me to lead?
Will you be everything I need?

Will you be everything I need?
