

Nolan Neal, Lost

sunshine where'd you go today sometimes its like your so far away then im reminded of how it used to feel to wonder if the pain was even real

i've awoken now
but i dont know how i'm alive
i deserve to be buried underneath blacker skies am i dreaming from my grave or have i fallen so far away that today i found myself
lost

so long yesterday is gone why try wasting time holding is gone when the night she cries her lonely sweet refrain its time like these we cant drown out the rain

i've awoken now
but i dont know how i'm alive
i deserve to be buried underneath blacker skies
am i dreaming from my grave
or have i fallen so far away
that today i found myself
lost
found myself lost

i've awoken now but i dont know how i've awoken now but i dont know how im alive
i deserve to be buried underneath blacker skies
am i dreaming from my grave or have i fallen so far away that today i found my self today i found myself
lost
found myself lost