

Nomy, Monkey boy

You're a monkey boy monkey boy
Living on the edge and the kids are screaming louder
You're a monkey boy monkey boy
Standing on the edge inside you're getting prouder
Some people never know just When to let him go
If I were you I would do so
So keep him in a cage
And he'll become enraged
You'll better find a safer place
Some people never care to help the solitaire
They all say they are unaware
He's sitting looking at you
And wonder what the hell are you gonna do
When he is out he's gonna get to you
So look what they have done
The war have just begun
So monkey boy go get your gun
If you are feeling low
Its time to let it show
So bring me all the hate you know
And everything that you really wanna be is gonna be the struggle fighting in your fantasy
When you are out they'll never get to you
But if you fall right next to me
I will stand righteous for thee
And if I die right next to you as will they do rest beside you
