

Nomy, Walk in silence

Have you noticed that we're dancing all alone
I dont mind it But everyone seems to bee laughing at us Have you been noticed they are gone They did mind it Everyone just disappear when this song came on Dance away now close to me in eternity Dance away now, my only one Soul on fire takes you higher we'll dance on and keep on living let them think they are forgiven Soul on fire your desire Stay alone if they dont want you Leave em all so you can live too
Have you noticed that we're laughing all alone
As long as someone still do I'll stay close to you Have you been noticed what we are we are like one pair of shoes that no one want to use Have you been noticed that we are everything what they are not everything they forgot All your life you has been a misery untill the day you found the poetry
Have you ever been all alone even though you're in a crowd and all the times they dont hear you even though you scream is loud
And they wont need you as long as you cant claim place
And they wont see you even though you're in their face
Have you ever been all alone even though you're in a crowd
And all the roads you are on it's like you're running in a cloud You're standing quite hoping it will end some day so walk in silence there's no reason here to stay
