

Nonpoint, Code Red

Taking the world on,
taking the world on by yourself.
When will you learn?
When will you learn all by yourself?

Runaway, it's the only way for you to stay alive.
I'm not moving if you paid me.
That's the shit that's going to make me curl up inside and die.
That's not the way to be talking, if you want to stay alive.

That's a chance that I'm taking.
It's the only way to make me satisfied with my life.

[Chorus]
Code Red.
Calling for Code Red.
Don't let the enemy in.
His solution is not the only end.
Code Red.
Calling for Code Red.

Taking the world on,
taking the world on by yourself.
When will you learn the world is on your side?
Taking the world on,
taking the world on by yourself.
It's a battle you finally won,
when you saw the struggle shared by everyone.

Just like you... I am... just like you, I am.
That's impossible, look at where you're from.
Look at all the battles I lost.
Look at all the battles I should have won.
I understand... I do... I understand like you're supposed to.
That's impossible, how are you supposed to?
There's a million ways, second chances,
wrong impressions, second glances.

[Chorus]
Taking the world on,
taking the world on by yourself.
When will you learn the world is on your side?
Taking the world on,
taking the world on by yourself.
It's a battle you finally won,
when you saw the struggle shared by everyone.

I'm calling for...

Taking the world on,
taking the world on by yourself.

[Chorus]
