

Nonpoint, Witness

No more secrets
No more games
Not another day of living this way
Cigarette smoke filled room concealing
Everything your heart is feeling

You took away the only thing left worth fighting for
The lock is broken on the front door
And everybody walking is covered in mud
To take turns on the thing that you've become

What's done is done is gone
So let what's coming come
All this ends here right now
Caus' I'm about to put my foot down

(Chorus)
I've been a witness
To all of your lies and games
I've been a witness
You are the worst mistake I ever made

(Chorus)
I've been a witness
To all of the games you play
So sick of your bullshit
You are the worst mistake I ever made

Not another word
Not until they heard
Every single bad situation that occurred
Every wrong look and feeling
Has got me crawling on the god damn ceiling

Im taking all the evidence
Calling all the papers
Plastering your face on every television station
No more back ally cover-up bullshit
Im leaving and taking what I came with

(Chorus x1)

(Repeat x2)
I've been a witness to you (What's done is done is gone, So let what's coming come)
And all of the things that you do (What's done is done is gone, So let what's coming come)
You make my job so easy (What's done is done is gone, So let what's coming come)
Because you look so guilty

(Chorus x1)
