

Nora, The Neverendingyouline

What could I ever say to you to stop you for a moment?

When it's every day and it's every way and

I think I might explode from the adrenaline.

[Don't say I'm wrong.]

You say my dreams are wrong and my ideals are flawed.

Refuse.

I won't stop trying.

You don't care, you don't try,

But you're always there, in the line.

Fuck you, I am the better man,

I'll give you all the chances that I can.

Smile as you cut me, thank you as you smash me,

Grit my teeth as you crush me, scream aloud as you silence me.

But I don't think it's you, it's the you I'll meet next time,

And the two I'll meet tomorrow.

The never ending you line. ... no matter what it's always you.
