

Norma Jean, Someplace To Cry

When you're out with somebody new I might be out with someone too
But each shoulder I lay my head on is just someplace to cry over you
With you I was so happy without you my darling I'm so blue
But each shoulder I lay my head on is just someplace to cry over you
I tell myself to forget you but deep inside I know it isn't true
For each shoulder I lay my head on is just someplace to cry over you
Just someplace to cry over you
