

Norma Jean, There's A Higher Power

When burdens seem to overcome there's a higher power
Who's able and refuses none there's a higher power
Then why ask men to help you through there's a higher power
They're helpless pilgrims just like you there's a higher power
So sing and shout walk and talk there's a higher power
Lay down your soul let Jesus fall there's a higher power
Amen amen there's a higher power amen amen there's a higher power
(steel - ac.guitar)

Oh go tell people lost in sin there's a higher power
They need not fear the works of men there's a higher power
Believe in him to rest on high there's a higher power
Unless they do they'll surely die there's a higher power
So sing and shout walk and talk...

(steel - ac.guitar)
These men have made these mighty guns there's a higher power
They build automobiles and run there's a higher power
The brothers and sisters mark this down there's a higher power
They can't get you no heavenly bound there's a higher power
So sing and shout walk and talk...
Amen amen there's a higher power amen amen there's a higher power