

Normal Like You, Lies Wide Shut

crowd your glory after all you've won.
this isn't a game tiger sympathy plays no card cut directly was my number lost the story evolves shortly you issue your lies wide shut remember not to leave the door unattended you wouldn't want the world to slip in you can't ignore this away no locate your misconception you can't ignore this away no you've wondered past conclusion the second cut is deepest it hard to say that it's only words, because they're sequenced with actions (you gave it away tiger, my sympathy plays no card) how could you throw that royal flush away? why not call my bluff?

that was the day i quit gambling,
(the story evolves shortly, you issue your lies wide shut)
be careful not to leave the door unattended you wouldn't want your friends to slip in actions speak louder than the lack of words. the clarity is unsure. don't put my life on hold, because your perturbed your discombobulation is your's. and only yours.

the clarity is unsure, your discombobulation is your's
my gambling days are over. we all know the house wins fidelity is ruptured the miscommunication is yours.
my gambling days are over we all know the house wins.