

Normal Like You, What's Behind

Finally,
the way i've carried myself,
comes back to haunt me,
but i don't,
Understand, how i can change,
when youre around me, somethings wrong,
Release this vice,
Cuz i'm frustrated...

I, can't keep hiding in this smile,
I can try to for a little longer,
but I,
Can't stop lying to myself...

Stuck between,
these lines i'm drawing,
I can't keep crying,
It's your brown eyes that keep me here,
its your eyes that keep me here,

Well i'm sorry,
I'm not tryin to,
There must be something else behind you,
to keep you here,
Forgive me,
I don't feel the love (Forgive me!!!) when your near me,
something pulls me back,
I'm sure you feel the way I do,
But i don't see it, and

I, can't keep hiding in this smile,
i can try to for a little longer,
but I can't stop lying to myself...myself...

Lost again, I'm sick of searching
i can't keep lying,
its your brown eyes that keep me here,
its your eyes that keep me here...
but behind those eyes,
there's something more,
I'm falling for more than just another pretty face,
I adore you so.... so....

Stuck between,
these lines i'm drawning,
i can't keep crying,
its your brown eyes that keep me here,
its your eyes that keep me here,

Lost again, i'm sick of searching,
i can't keep lying,
its your brown eyes that keep me here...
its your eyes that keep me here...
