

Northstar, For Anyone But You

When the shadows fall behind
I pick them up to carry on my way
I looked up and you looked so kind
Looked back down when you were falling behind

When shadows fall behind
Picked you up to carry on my way
I looked up and you looked so kind
Looked back down when you were falling behind

How can I pick you up?
(With no hands of my own?)
Whew!

Well, I love the way your hands touch mine
Like a gift from god, worth a lifetime
In case tomorrow doesn't find its way
Just stay love is forever don't throw it away

How can I pick you up?
(With no hands of my own?)
Whew!
