

Nothing To Lose, Facing You

Every time I look out to you,
there's a face that I cannot recognize.
Someone out there,
someone different.
Another one to make me crazy and think twice.

Last night that was not me
talking randomly.
I think I finally know
not to tell you things I can't hear tomorrow.

Never thought my words would make it.
All my friends say we should break it off.
Maybe some heart's soft enough to break.
And then, compare it to your heart of stone today.

Thinking of the things that we've done.
I'm finally over you saying that it's 'the end'.
There's one thing that we need to get straight here.
It's that I get the numbers to all your friends.

Last night that was not me
talking randomly.
I think I finally know
not to tell you things I can't hear tomorrow.

Never thought my words would make it.
All my friends say we should break it off.
Maybe some heart's soft enough to break.
And then, compare it to your heart of stone today.
Heart of stone today.