

Novice, Letter From A Friend

Sunlight breaks over moonlit skies
This day comes too life
This cold air that I breathe is fatal
And theres no comfort here
Your the same but I have changed
But you wait for me still
I got your letter it said you'd never leave
And you'd forgive me

And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days
And I will scream for you forever
And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days
And will you wait for me to get there

Forget all those times that I was wrong
I know I let you down everyday (please forgive me)
But still your there waiting
For me to come home to you
To be with you
The matter I fall I run away
Your wings protect me

And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days
And I will scream for you forever
And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days
And will you wait for me to get there

Inside, another empty heart, you will be together
(I know we'll see another empty heart
If I stay with you forever)
Inside, another empty heart, you will be together
(I know that theres a way to move on
Will you wait for me to get there)

And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days
And I will scream for you forever
And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days
And will you wait for me to get there

And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days
And I will scream for you forever
And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days
And will you wait for me to get there

I will sing, I will scream
Will you wait for me to get there
(And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days)
I will sing, I will scream
Will you wait for me to get there
