

Nrbq, If I Don't Have You

If I counted all of the things I've got
You might really think I had a lot
But I won't be satisfied if I don't have you.
If I sail away to the Caribbean
See so many sights that I've never seen
Still they wouldn't mean a thing to me
If I don't have you.

Yes, it's you I can shout it out
And you're all that I think about.
Yes it's true
They all fall by the way
It's all I can say it's you.

Living in a castle like a king
Wouldn't be much fun without my queen
And I'd probably throw it all away
If I don't have you.

Yes, it's you I can shout it out
And you're all that I think about.
Yes it's true
They all fall by the way
It's all I can say it's you.

And if words could say what I wish they would
I could really make it understood
That I won't be satisfied
If I don't have you.

No, I will never be satisfied
If I don't have you.
