

NRG, After Sending You

Now, I have to forget about you so my strength wont deplete, I have to exert myself to erase your a
Even though I try to hold back the longing, even though I try to hide it stupidly, the tears flow down
Already, how many days has my heart covered it. Already, how many times has it hurt because of t
I want to fill your empty spot, Im waiting for you like this again
Because my heart hurts so much, I become drunk off the longing if you could just grab my shaking
I want to see you so badly, I love you so much but its okay, my heart wont change
Already, how many days has my heart covered it. Already, how many times has it hurt because of t
I want to fill your empty spot, Im waiting for you like this again
Even if its from afar, you (you) if I could watch you, if I could protect you from my side
I (I) wont make it hurt again, with you and me together
Please come back, I love you
Already, how many days has my heart covered it. Already, how many times has it hurt because of t
I want to fill your empty spot, Im waiting for you like this again
