

NRG, Leave My Heart

I know already, that my hard love would in the end become like this.
However, I must have really loved you. The empty spot where are aren't in seems so large.

Rap) That day, was it that night? Before I broke up with you,
I stood without any kind of expression, you looked at that kind of me. As if we've both hid our feelings behind our backs,
We just stared blankly at each other.

Is this really the best way? Is it? Needless to say as I look as we grow farther apart, time passes by like this.

(You and I laugh but in our hearts there's only sadness.

When we turn away tears fall)

As if I've forgotten your appearance, everyone's found their path and left.

But even though I try to forget, its like an oath. Because I still love you

To protect you I'm still too weak.

Do you know? That you were special to me?

Rap)In an illusion in a trapped heart and within frustration I can't get a hold of myself.

I, predictably, cannot fill the empty space without you.

Now the time that I can't get back, even if I wanted to turn that time around, I can't. As if that time has been buried in my memories for forever, I can only keep the happy memories in my heart.

As if I've forgotten your appearance, everyone's found their path and left.

But even though I try to forget, its like an oath. Because I still love you.

To protect you I'm still too weak.

Do you know? That you were special to me?

Now I know, that my love is only you. baby.

Do you regret that you didn't say you loved me?

Do you know? That you were special to me?
