

NRG, Remember

I'll be missing you in my heart.

I know that its not it. That it's me who cannot stand by your side.

And I know that its the end but its not easy for me.

When the season we first met comes around a familiar longing lingers in my heart and the wishes I used to try and forget are crumbling down in this time.

Remember gloomy summer dreams. I'll love with you.

A long time has passed but everyday I am missing you.

I can't leave from this spot. Remember.

Rap)

The blinding warm summer sunlight and your transparent smile through that light. In a second it becomes a sweet short dream, and will probably remain as a memory of a past summer day.

I can't wait for you, I'll love with you

Until the day the world ends, I love you for I'll wait till the day that I can see you again.
