

NRG, Sunshine

There are so many good memories of us
but I keep thinking of all the memories of when I wasn't good to you.
Even if I'm alone like this I'm not lonely.
As if it was like this always I can always feel you by my side.
It was after I let you go that I realized,
How special you were to my heart.
Again there has never been a time I've forgotten you.
I'll think that we're always together.
The memories of when I loved you haven't changed
and are still the way they were.
Even if sometimes I have a hard time and I'm worn out
I can feel you holding my hand.
Even if more times pass by, I'm not going to be able to forget you.
For the day that we meet again I'm going to put away my sadness.
We're starting over again. Although without grief we had a hard time
After all I believe in your love that's protected me thus far.
There are times when I have regrets too. I become so sorry that I couldn't be good to you. But for you I'll gather my strength again.
It was after I let you go that I realized,
How special you were to my heart.
Again there has never been a time I've forgotten you.
I'll think that we're always together.
The memories of when I loved you haven't changed
and are still the way they were.
Even if sometimes I have a hard time and I'm worn out
I can feel you holding my hand.
Even if more times pass by, I'm not going to be able to forget you.
For the day that we meet again I'm going to put away my sadness.
Even if you, who shines on me like the sunlight,
are a little far away It's okay.
I pray that in that place that's filled with happiness
you can forget everything now and be at ease.
I'm going to save all the things that I couldn't say to you for the day that we meet.
Even if we meet again, remember that we are one.
I promise you that day.
