

NRG, Yeah 2005 Now Give Me Five Da Five

Yeah 2005 Now Give me five da five

This one here goes out to everybody out there Are You Ready?~~~

To love only you forever, To love only you whenever once filled you with everything

Now everything has changed, Love has now changed too, Watching you like that has made me tired

You know the reason why I turned around

After learning that love is like that simple string, dont lean on it anymore

Get under way Our hearts hurt from an already broken love, Look at me

Please forget everything, Inside my memory, I no longer want me in it

Get one over I will tell my side first, ever my heart which feels like its going to hurt

If separation is this easy, then love should be easy too, its the end from here

To forget you forever, I wish that time will erase you when you see me, Im tired too now

You know the reason why I turned around

After learning that love is like that simple string, dont lean on it anymore

Get under way Our hearts hurt from an already broken love, Look at me

Please forget everything, Inside my memory, I no longer want me in it

Get one over I will tell my side first, ever my heart which feels like its going to hurt

If separation is this easy, then love should be easy too, its the end from here

rap I wonder why I dont want any more tears

My heart hurts so much that now Im really tired

Dont worry about the words ending it, please come back to my waiting side

We have made countless heart aching memories

Just with that, we will forever store it away, I really long for it

Not being able to forget you even though you threw me away so easily, I trouble myself with it a lot

Now, everything has become wrong because I cant forget you

I will forget about all the painful memories, just come back to me

If you can, I want to hold onto you forever by my side, I only love you
