

Number One Gun, Fireside Wing

This world may tell me not to turn it all the way
It's the last thing I need cause you're better anyway
Take it from me
I don't want these things that I'm giving up
I don't know
I just don't want to hear that I told you so

And you're not who I've heard about
But you're someone I need
And you're not who I've figured out

It's my first time falling and I'm finishing all the way
And you're all that I would need cause you're better anyway
Take it from me
Cause I've seen things that you've taught about
I don't know
It's the last thing that I would ever have know

And you're not who I've heard about
But you're someone I need
And you're not who I've figured out

Sometimes, I feel like I'm alive
And you love, and you give, and you do it so well
And I can't even come to convince myself
(And I can't even come to convince myself)
Myself
(And I can't even come to convince myself)
Myself

And you're not who I've heard about
But you're someone I need
And you're not who I've figured out

And you're not who I've heard about
But you're someone I need
And you're not who I've figured out
