

Obliveon, Fatal Induction

You'll face your own apocalypse
And the void you denied
You forced your ingress into realms
Ready meant to decline

Your credit bliss has been overcharged
So the grief is the price
Your false foundations will collapse
Never learn otherwise

Never-ending inception, fatal induction
Just bring the goat for the sacrifice

Now that you face your own essence
Can you part with the lies
Now that you've lost your innocence
Will you dare to survive

Seek absolution to ease the fall
Let the pain be the guide
Just pick the goat for the sacrifice
Bring a dream to demise

Never-ending inception, fatal induction
Just bring the goat for the sacrifice

Condemned to learn
The bridge has burnt
But you always return
Never-ending inception

Condemned to learn
The bridge has burnt
But you always return
It's a fatal induction

You'll face your own apocalypse
And the void you denied
You forced your ingress into realms
Ready meant to decline

(Chorus)
