

Ocean Blue, My Scream

I bought all the lines you sold me dear and you know I spoke them well I wore all the clothes you brought me dear and you know I wore them well I don't want to scream
but it's the saddest scene I've ever seen before today
I walked through the sets you placed on stage and you know I strode through tall I watched as you ripped them all to shreds and you know I miss them all I don't want to scream
before today
locked up in my soul locked up in my heart
I don't want to scream
but it's the saddest scene I've ever seen before and if you stop and really think what I mean you'd see that I was better than before My Scream
