

Ocean Colour Scene, God's World

Well the old man shuffles off
And hell curse the world and cough
And the young man who is watching rushes off
And he vows to the sky
To have faith in you and I
And the old man who is watching slowly cries

Well its Gods world and its safe and its easy
To justify your personal responsibility
But its Gods world and its safe and its easy
To nullify all personal responsibility

Well the young man makes a plan
That hell save all foreign lands
And at his right hand
Well all be singing
And hell vow to the Sky
To have faith in you and I
And the whole world that is watching slowly dies

Well its Gods world and its safe and its easy
To justify your personal responsibility
But its Gods world and its safe and its easy
To nullify all personal responsibility

Don't nullify your personal responsibility yeah
Don't nullify your personal responsibility yeah

Well its Gods world and its safe and its easy
To justify your personal responsibility
Well its Gods world and its safe and its easy
To nullify your personal responsibility
