So they told you it does not exist
You have to rethink your life
You don't need much guidance
It's in your soul

Sing the words you have spoken to the dark
Live to breath the fresh air
Fight for all there is to achieve
It's in your soul
Tormenting you

I'm so cold
But your love can't warm me
I can't breathe
But your breath won't reach me

A commitment not easily broken
Master! Who are you working for?

Are you watching me?
See me burning
Although my soul is frozen

I won't forget

I'm so tired
But how to sleep
When I close my eyes
Then I see your face

Bring the force back to balance
And reach for unknown limities

Are you watching me?
See me burning
Although my soul is frozen

I won't forget
I will!

So they told you it does not exist
You have to rethink your life
You don't need much guidance
It's in your soul
