

October Fall, Falling

And we fall tonight, to the deepest of our hearts as we sit laying here together
I'm lost tonight, scared of not making my way home, will we ever make this better?

Will we ever make our way back home?

Breathe in, breathe out
I'm still screaming out loud for you
I'm still screaming your name
Breathe in, breathe out
I'm still screaming out loud for you
I'm still screaming your name

I keep falling, faster to the song I keep on repeat so I can sleep
I wake at night, to another dream of you, I check the clock it's turning two

Breathe in, breathe out
I'm still screaming out loud for you
I'm still screaming your name
Breathe in, breathe out
I'm still screaming out loud for you
I'm still screaming your name

Breathe in, breathe out
I'm still screaming out loud for you
I'm still screaming your name
Breathe in, breathe out
I'm still screaming out loud for you
I'm still screaming your name
