

October Fall, In spite of everything

Break in through the broken window
My heart thrown against the red glass
Something's, holding me