

October Project, Paths Of Desire

I have traveled the paths of desire gathering flowers and carrying fire
Raising a grave to the reasons behind me
Looking for strength as you live to remind me

I'm drawn to you
I'm caught in you

I am the fly who dreams of the spider
The path to the web becomes deeper and wider
I dream of the silk that is tangled inside you
And know that I want to be somewhere beside you

I'm drawn to you
I'm caught in you

In your eyes
All of the promises,
All the lies
Will you keep all the promises
In your eyes?

I am crossing the bridges of sorrow
Empty with yearning and full of tomorrow
The river is high and the bridges are burning
I know I've been hurt but I keep on returning

I'm drawn to you
I'm caught in you

In your eyes,
All of the promises,
All the lies
Will you keep all of the promises
In your eyes?

I have traveled the paths of desire
Following smoke and remembering fire
The night is falling, the path is receding
I don't need to see it to know where it's leading

In your eyes
All of the promises
All the lies
Will you keep all of the promises
In your eyes?
