Of Machines, Lost In Translation

This is your way out of space
A fool to fall for that line
For those who hoped
You'd be everything
(Be everything)
Your quiet eyes won't sleep tonight
This is a message to the weak
And now we know,
Just who you are
Yeah,

We've all caught on And now you're on

And now you're on

Your words run so well together

You have lost your touch, In those you cannot trust This is your way out of here

Girl, you need to listen up

Before I let you go

Attention!

We have stolen the hearts

Of the machines

Attention!

We have stolen the hearts

And you find yourself

So confined by those who point at you

Tear down these weights

Give it all

Just let this go

For all the times you just stood there and stared

Into my stained glass eyes

And now and now we've come to understand what makes a man a man.

Your words run so well together

You have lost your touch,

In those you cannot trust

This is your way out of here

Girl, you need to listen up

Before I let you go

Girl, you need to listen up

Before I let you go
