Of Montreal, Jennifer Louise

Jennifer Louise you don't know me but we're cousins your mamama and my mamamama are sisters Jennifer Louise I haven't seen you since I was a kid when my family spent the weekend at your house and your father helped when my eyelashes stuck together

My mom told me that now you're a young professional living with a significant someone

Jennifer Louise we know so little about each other I'll probably never call you up, write you a letter or see you in person Basically Jennifer Louise you don't know me and we're not friends
But I was just wondering about you wondering if you ever think about me
