

Of Montreal, The March Of The Gay Parade

All the people look so beautiful
While they're marching in the gay parade
They make friends with trees and animals
They gather up all the countries flags and they burn them

There is nothing left on earth to separate them I assure you they feel completely free and pretty happy
All the people look so beautiful
While they're marching in the gay parade