

Off By One, Cinderella

I'm getting sick of this
This fighting's killing me
There was a time when I gladly
Would take this crap from you
Yeah you were worth the pain
But now it's just a twisted game

Someday, someday, I'll say, no way
To you, what else can I do
This war, I swore, meant more, before
You see, when you meant everything to me

You used to yell at me
It used to turn me on
But suddenly that feeling's gone
Now I just see your mouth
And all the words get lost
And it can't help but turn me off

Someday, someday, I'll say, no way
To you, what else can I do
This war, I swore, meant more, before
You see, when you meant everything to me

Times up, I've had, enough of you
Times up, I've had, enough of you

There was a time and place
(Times up, I've had, enough of you)
You smack me in the face, the face
(Times up, I've had, enough of you)
And that would be ok
(Times up, I've had, enough of you)
It's not ok today, today, no way
(Times up, I've had, enough)

Would take this crap from you
Yeah you were worth the pain
But now its just a twisted game

Someday, someday, I'll say, no way
To you, what else can I do
This war, I swore, meant more, before
You see, when you meant everything to me
