

Offset, Waiting Room

Lay down it's late now
The medicine is kicking in
Or could it be something else
You're wearing thin
You're wearing thin

Breathe in and breathe out
The harmonies of charred black wounds
Playing time with the rhytm

In this room I can wait too long
If it's time to go
Will you stop to tell me?
In this room all that's left is hope
Will I wait alone?
Will you ever tell me?

Slow down and fade out
Come tomorrow time will tell
Will it keep holding out?
I'm wearing thin
I'm wearing thin

Hands down and hands out
I'm holding on until you go
But this I ask of you
Don't let me wait too long
Don't let me wait too long

In this room I can wait too long
If it's time to go
Will you stop to tell me?
In this room all that's left is hope
Will I wait alone?
Will you ever tell me?

And it's so hard to see you smile
As you're choking on every breath
And you're waning
And I'm waiting now
Just don't let me wait too long

In this room I can wait too long
If it's time to go
Will you stop to tell me?
In this room all that's left is hope
Will I wait alone?
Will you ever tell me?

In this room I can't wait too long
When it's time to go
Will you stop to tell me?
In this room all that's left is hope
Will I wait alone?
