Okkervil River, Red

Red is my favorite color, red like your mothers eyes after awhile of crying about how you dont love easy to have me, but I have seen some things that I cant even tell to my family pictures, and Im full of fictions and fucking addictions and I miss my mother. Shell never know I could never forget her. If I could write her a letter, Id try with every line to say She still remembers your touch. And I know that its not much, but you still havent lost