

Old 97's, No Mother

In the valley of the shadows Im waiting
For mother and the other ones I love
So know Ill always love you
Until we meet above

In the battle of the bottle Im an innocent
And the breaking of glass Im lost
In the shadow of a downtown overpass
My last I did exhaust

No no no mother should ever have to lose a son
No no no mother especially not such a handsome one

In the middle of the meadow Im waiting
For mother and the other ones I love
Theres no good why this came to pass
Theres only just because

No no no mother should ever have to lose a son
No no no mother especially such a handsome one
