Old Man River, All The Things

All the things that you're after You've already got All the things that you need Are holding you back When you chasin' them down You fall in a trap

I got something to tell you But I forgot I got something to tell you I don't know what I got something to tell you It's coming back

When I'm pulling you up girl You're pulling me down If we both had to swim We would probably drown So you should go your way And I'll go mine

'Cause all the things that you're after You've already got All the things that you need Are holding you back When you chasin' them down You fall in a trap

Go to bed now
Rest your head
All the things you've done today
They're gone away
Yes they're gone
They all fade
They all fade
All the things that you're after...
