

Oleander, Parade

Every color is a shade
Destined to fade
A glorious parade
Invisible
To me

I'm lyin' in the wake
Just about to break
The more I try to give you know
The more they try to take

Take it from me
Take it away
Lines in the sand
And all the ugliness today
And all the in-betweens
That keep you away

Hey

Oh life can be so good
It's so misunderstood
The struggle and the strive
To do the things we should

We're lyin' in the wake
Just about to break
The more you try to give you know
The more they'll try to take

Take it from me
Take it away
Lies in disguise
In every promise that you make
And the all the in-betweens that keep you away

Hey
Oh
Oh
Oh

Oh take it from me
Oh take it away
Lies in disguise
And every promise that you make
And all the in-betweens that keep you away

Every color is a shade
Destined to fade
A glorious parade
Invisible
To me
