

Olivia D'Abo, Broken

You shut me down in shades of grey
That ricocheted into endless, matter
Your lucid eyes expecting me to stay
You could not comprehend how, shattered i was
Chorus

I lie awake at night
And think about the golden rule of love
You'd better be prepared to pay the price
So look before you jump
Dont look back, baby
Dont look back, baby
Dont look back

Love has broken you
Love has broken me
Invisible to naked eyes, but this euphoria
Cant be mistaken
Cause i undress you in my mind,
Kaleidoscopic images all waken
(chorus)

Cause love has broken you
An love has broken me
Love has broken you
Love has broken me
There is no beginning, there is no end
Eternity is my new born friend
Vane green images and story eyes
Amazing grace with electro lines
Hey, could you do that again
Cause you feel me up time and time again
Never need to draw the line
These moments dont need to be defined
Im in a steady euphoria
If i told you the story
Id bring you to your knees
Never knew what i was really missing
But now i do and id been digging press in
Dont look back, baby
Dont look back, baby
Dont look back
Love has broken you
Love has broken me
Love has broken you
Love has broken me.
