

Olivia Holt, Carry On

There's always gonna be some canyon in the way
There's always gonna be a river I cannot cross
Somewhere along this path that's chosen me
I know I'm gonna fall down, feel lost, feel weak
But wherever it leads...

No one said this would ever be easy, my love
But I will be by your side when the impossible rises up
We will travel this life well worn
No matter the cost, no matter how lost
We will leave our footprints behind

Chorus:
And carry on, carry on, carry on, carry on

Some will write you off before you ever start
Some will say your journey's just too hard
Somewhere between right here and the other side
There will be fear and doubt in the deep, dark night
But we will survive...

Yeah
No one said this would ever be easy, my love
But I will be by your side when the impossible rises up
We will travel this life well worn
No matter the cost, no matter how lost
We will leave our footprints behind

Chorus:
And carry on, carry on, carry on, carry on

We may fall behind, lose miles along this road
We will be alright, I will never let you go

No one said this would ever be easy, my love
But I will be by your side when the impossible rises up
We will travel this life well worn
No matter the cost, no matter how lost
We will leave our footprints behind

Chorus:
And carry on, carry on
