

Olivia Lufkin, Celestial Delinquent

You live in a home with running water
And an air conditioner and tv
You have nothing to give you have nothing to say
So you sing-a-ling-a-long everything is alright
How can one person change the world?
I gotta pay my bills i gotta go to work
The earth is dying
I am so ashamed
We are all to blame
We must raise humane consciousness
I want to be up high up with the sun
Disappear completely into love
I want to be up high up where i can
See the secret roads
I want to be up high up with the sun
Disappear completely into love
I want to be up high up where i can
See the secret roads
All you selfish people who think of nothing but money
Realize how angry and stressed you are all the time
When you're angry you only see things from a bad angle
That's why you are going crazy
That why you feel like shit
You'll never find true happiness in this state of mind
I want to be up high up with the sun
Disappear completely into love
I want to be up high up where i can
See the secret roads
I want to be up high up with the sun
Disappear completely into love
I want to be up high up where i can
See the secret roads
What's most important is where we were born, where we grow, where we live
Without the earth we are extinct
Instead of finding ways to live on other planets, we have to find a way to live on our own
Instead of spending so much money on sending space shuttles into space and making weapons for Why don't we use it for making solar electricity, homes, cars, appliances?
Someone is going to have to give in, somebody is going to lose money
We can't be greedy, we can't be lazy, we have to learn to give and help each other
And rise about this world we created, rise above fear
We need to share to save the human race, take the human race into a higher vibration
I want to be up high up with the sun
Disappear completely into love
I want to be up high up where i can
See the secret roads
I want to be up high up with the sun
Disappear completely into love
I want to be up high up where i can
See the secret roads