I am tripping out on myself I am tripping out on myself I have to watch my thoughts Before they come to life Before they come to life I have to get you out of my head I have to swallow my tongue I have to find where I went Before she comes to life Before she comes to life They're coming to get me She's coming right towards me They're coming to take me away She's getting closer I can't hide my secrets They're listening to me They're always listening to me They're coming to get me, coming to get me, coming to get me She's coming to get me, coming to get me They're coming, she's coming They're coming, coming She's coming, they're coming
