

Olivia Lufkin, Trinkka trinka

No one is around
Your making it all up
It's time to disarm yourself
Because when you are free
And act naturally
Something begins to happen
Slowly I see you
Wake out of a very serious snooz'in
Right eye, left eye
I feel like on the verge of a big surprise
I'm feeling trinka trinka
It's really happening
My heart is beating steady
But I want to scream!
Internal carousel cues an upright rainbow
Sending out a friendly glimmer
I'm feeling trinka trinka
It's really happening
My heart is beating steady
But I want to scream!
Calling out a big shift
It knows we are laughing
Together we laugh
This space is open
You're creating in it
I know when you're doing it with joy
Because it has a shine
That no words can explain
It reaches out and touches me
In your rhythm
Some may not understand what you are doing
Oh! behave! now
All of a sudden anything seems possible
I'm feeling trinka trinka
It's really happening
My heart is beating steady
But I want to scream!
Possibilities inspiration galore
Inhale and exhale at the same time
I'm feeling trinka trinka
It's really happening
My heart is beating steady
But I want to scream!
Look what is found
So much to discover
It's never over
